Dear Mr. Rampa:

As an Elsevier journal author, you retain the right to include the article in a thesis or dissertation (provided that this is not to be published commercially) whether in full or in part, subject to proper acknowledgment; see https://www.elsevier.com/about/our-business/policies/copyright/personal-use for more information. As this is a retained right, no written permission from Elsevier is necessary.

If I may be of further assistance, please let me know.

Best of luck with your PhD thesis and best regards,
Hop

Subject: Permission to include my articles in my dissertation

 External email: use caution ***

Dear Elsevier,
My Sankeerth Rampa. I am in the process of completing my PhD in Health Services Research, Administration & Policy at the University of Nebraska Medical Center (UNMC) – College of Public Health. I had published below two articles.

Article: Emergency Department Utilization related to dental conditions & distribution of Dentists, Nebraska 2011-2013.

Corresponding author/First author: Sankeerth Rampa.

Journal: The Journal of Evidence-Based Dental Practice.

Reference: YMED1159
Article: Trends in Dental-Related Emergency Department Visits in the State of California from 2005 to 2011.
Corresponding author/First author: Sankeerth Rampa
Journal: Oral Surgery, Oral Medicine, Oral Pathology and Oral Radiology
Reference: OOOO1495

The above two article are part of my dissertation. I would need permission to include the two articles in my dissertation.
Sincerely,
Sankeerth Rampa, MBA MPH
