Dear Dr. Hruban,

Warm regards. I am a final year graduate student in University of Nebraska Medical Center. Currently, I am working on pancreatic cancer as my dissertation topic. I am close to final stages of my graduate studies, and in process of drafting my dissertation. So, I would like to request you and Johns Hopkins Pathology Department to grant permission to allow me to use and publish some of the images among the various images of different pancreatic cancer types published in Johns Hopkins Pathology webpage.

I would like to assure that the images will not be used for solely for the purpose of my dissertation. Looking forward for kind cooperation. Thank you in advance.
